I am trying to build my project on Ubuntu MATE 16.04 in virtualBox using Qt5.5, but it shows "Error while loading shared libraries: libQt5QuickWidgets.so.5: cannot open shared object file: No such file or directory". It shows error right at the start of the "QDeclarativeView" part. I have searched for solution everywhere and couldn't find what I need exactly. Can someone help me know if I need to recompile everything to "ARM"? Or it would be enough that I can make Ubuntu to show me a message that my OS is ARM or ARM64? Is there any answer for this? A: First, if you're using a Ubuntu image that's listed as "ARM Ubuntu Core" instead of "ARM64 Ubuntu Core", you need to install the armhf version of libqtquickwidgets5. See the Ubuntu page here. If you're using an Ubuntu image that's listed as "ARM64 Ubuntu Core" (like the image you're trying to build on), you need to install the arm64 version.
